Eco-friendly wild animal scents that work

Weiser Group is committed to safe, effective and responsible wild animal control. Our Behavior Modification Scent (BMS) Technology was used in a real-world, one-year university study for mice control, showing an effective rate of 94.1%.

Weiser's Nature's Defense is a first-of-its-kind organic animal behavior modification scent that is extremely effective, non-toxic and safe to use around people, pets and plants.

Nature's Defense Behavior Modification Scents are fast to apply and easy to use with no harm to the environment.

Safely and naturally change wild animal behavior year-round!

Thirty-five years of research knowledge have been instrumental to the development and design of Weiser's Nature's Defense exclusive BMS wildlife training scents.

Nature's Defense Behavior Modification Scents (BMS) offer an eco-friendly, non-toxic and effective way to modify the behavior patterns of over 26 different wild animals around commercial buildings and residential structures – including trees, landscaping and gardens – year-round.

BMS products are fast to apply with no messy applications and can be used together to maximize results quickly.
